

Houghton College Students Part of Urban Garden Green Team

Five Houghton College seniors spent their summer as Green Team members working in Buffalo, N.Y., with Massachusetts Avenue Project's (MAP) Growing Green Initiative urban gardening projects. Houghton students Charlotte Stoll, Daniel Levis, Robin Evans, Rachel Sherer, and Christy Tygert made up the Green Team. The team worked with inner city youth (14–18 year olds) who were employed through Buffalo's summer youth program, teaching them how to garden and working with them on their various projects. ●