

Four-College Consortium

Houghton has established an on-going consortium relationship with three other colleges serving this northern tip of Appalachia: St. Bonaventure University, Alfred University, and the SUNY College of Technology at Alfred. Details of cross-enrollment opportunities may be found through the academic records office.